Mr Robert Kalina (right), Publisher and Dr Lindsay E Nicolle (left), Founding Editor-in-Chief of the Canadian Journal of Infectious Diseases & Medical Microbiology, present the 2012 Dr Lindsay E Nicolle Award to Dr Olivia Rempel (University of Calgary, Calgary, Alberta) who with her co-authors Drs Johann Pitout and Kevin Laupland wrote Antimicrobial resistance surveillance systems: Are potential biases taken into account? Vol 22, No 4 Winter 2011: e24-e28.

This Annual Award, sponsored by Pulsus Group in honour of Dr Nicolle, is given to an individual who has made a significant contribution to infectious diseases and medical microbiology as demonstrated by the impact of their original research published in The Canadian Journal of Infectious Diseases & Medical Microbiology. It was presented at the AMMI Canada conference held recently in Vancouver, British Columbia, and carries with it a piece of Canadian Art and a cheque for $1,000.
