

Supplemental Figure. Slit-lamp photographs of both eyes at the primary eye clinic before the first visit of our hospital. The right eye showed no abnormalities. In the left eye, subconjunctival hemorrhage was observed with mild chemosis.

Conjunctivochalasis causing repeated subconjunctival hemorrhages was not observed.

