In the article titled “Lupeol, a Dietary Triterpene, Enhances Wound Healing in Streptozotocin-Induced Hyperglycemic Rats with Modulatory Effects on Inflammation, Oxidative Stress, and Angiogenesis” [1], Dr. Regina Kiomi Takahira was missing from the authors’ list. Dr. Takahira conducted biochemical assays such as AST, ALT, γ -GT, alkaline phosphatase, creatinine, and urea, as well as the interpretation and visualization of all these data. The corrected authors’ list is shown above.
